City Council Acts To Block Attempts Of Troublemakers

The Marin City Council in fighting mood at its regular meeting last Sunday night voted unanimously to combat attacks being made on the community's war time unity and moved to protect the interests of all residents.

Passing a resolution opposing efforts now being made by individuals from outside Marin City to start a publication in opposition to "The Marin Citizen," official newspaper of the council and the people of Marin City, the Council pointed out that any efforts by outside influences to undermine "The Marin Citizen" was an attack on the entire community.

Michael Smith, former city council chairman, described the efforts being made to undermine the community newspaper. He reported that the owner of the Sausalito printing shop which formerly printed "The Marin Citizen" for the council, had asked that the council paper be taken elsewhere for printing. When this was done, the owner of the establishment then started a paper in opposition to "The Marin Citizen."

The individuals starting the outside paper also attempted to hire members of the staff away from "The Marin Citizen." Only staff member to leave for the outside paper was the former circulation manager.

Smith outlined the value of "The Marin Citizen" to the people of the community. He told of the victories won for the people by the paper and the city council. He recounted the experience had with the former Marin City Market operator, who was expelled from Marin City after his OPA price ceiling violations had been exposed by the council and "The Marin Citizen." He told of the fearless fight waged by the paper against cases of police injustice several months ago, and of the settlement of the cases by the county sheriff in a manner acceptable to Marin City residents. He described the work of the paper in building all of the community's social and war activities.

Other council speakers praised the paper for its support of the recent Red Cross War Fund drive which went far over its quota, for its editorial stand on scrap drives and other related war causes.

Daniel Allen, council chairman, pointed out that "The Marin Citizen" is owned by the city council and is a non-profit enterprise for the use of the people of Marin City.

The council was unanimous in its indignation at the start of any publication on the outside which would provide a threat to the work being done by the people's paper. All council members were in agreement on the urgent necessity to take immediate steps to protect the interests of "The Marin Citizen", and so guarantee the future interests of Marin City residents.

A meeting of the council's editorial committee on Tuesday night further implemented the council's action. The committee appointed three of its members to call on Sausalito merchants

Square Dancers to Meet at New Time At Community House

Family night square dancers will meet at a new time, but the old place next week. Time is 7:30 p.m., Wednesday in the council room of the Community House.

Cold drinks will be on sale. Everyone is invited to turn out and join the old-fashioned fun.

Marin City Honor Roll is Planned

Placque to Be Erected in Front Of Town Center

Marin City will soon join an increasing number of American communities which have permanent honor rolls of their men and women in the services.

Sponsored by "The Marin Citizen" and the Marin City Council, the Honor Roll will be erected in front of the Community Center. Inscribed on the Honor Roll will be the names of all Marin City residents who have gone to war.

Eligible for inscription on the Honor Roll will be the sons and daughters, husbands and wives, brothers and sisters and other close relatives who have gone to war from any Marin City family.

The Marin City Honor Roll will be dedicated on Sunday, June 4, with ceremonies which will be participated in by representatives of the armed forces, the merchant marine and various governmental dignitaries. Providing music for the occasion will be the Hamilton Field Army Band and the Treasure Island Navy Band.

Names for inscribing on the Honor Roll should be brought to the new office of "The Marin Citizen" in the old school house behind the fire department in Marin City or placed in either of "The Marin Citizen" boxes at the market or Community Center.

Names should be those serving in the Army, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine. Each name should be carefully printed as it should be inscribed on the honor roll.

A blank for listing names may be found on page 10.

Kids Marble Tournament Starts Here on May 20

It was calling all "mibs" players in Marin City this week as a grand championship marble playing contest got under way.

Signups for the contest were coming in as the week ended. Last day to file for the contest will be Monday, May 15. Play in the tournament will begin Saturday, May 20.

Eligible to enter the marbles tournament will be all Marin City "small fry" from the ages of 6 to 14. The playing will be divided into three flights: featherweight from ages 6 to 8; middleweight from ages 9 to 11, and heavyweight from ages 12 to 14. Prizes will be awarded winners in each of the three divisions. A grand prize will be awarded the winner of the playoff between the three divisions. Awards will be war bonds. Prizes and emblems will also be awarded those winning the lesser games.

All wishing to enter the marble tournament should fill out an application blank and turn it in at the new office of "The Marin Citizen" in the old school house behind the fire department. Application blanks may also be dropped in "The Marin Citizen" boxes at the market and Community Center. There is no filing fee.

The contest is being sponsored by "The Marin Citizen" and the Marin City branch of the Marin County Recreation Department. Taking care of most of the details of arranging the tournament will be the recreation committee of the Marin City Council.

All boys and girls who wish to enter the tournament were urged to get their applications in as soon as possible.

Immunizations Are Necessary for Pre-School Children

Pre-school children should be immunized, Dr. Irving Johnson, County Health Officer, said today. Parents who have not done so should take their children to their family physician after the age of six months for protection against diphtheria, whooping cough, and smallpox.

Those not having their own doctor may make appointments at Marin City Grade School, Wednesdays, 9 to 12, at the Well Baby Clinic, where doctors and nurse and a nutritionist, are in attendance.

The Well Baby Clinic is dewell. Sick children are not adsigned to keep the well child mitted. Any infant and child up to the school age who is unattended by a family physician is welcome and receives expert advice on feeding, formulas, immunizations and other medical problems. The clinic is well attended and staffed by volunteer workers who are active in community life and by doctors and nurses supplied by the County Health Department.

Mesdames Daniel Allen, Walter Del Tradici, and W. C. Billingsley attended the Spring Garden Festival at the Sausalito Womans' Club last week.

Drive Starts To Stop Broken Glass

A campaign against broken glass on Marin City roads was launched this week by the Marin City Council on suggestion of resident E. L. Augustine of House 286.

Augustine declard the menace is becoming worse daily, and the shortage of tires presents the drivers with a serious problem.

The local sheriff's office promised citizens complete cooperation in eliminating the town's highway hazard.

Putting, breaking, or depositing glass on any road is in violation of California State law. Any person committing such an act is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Penalties provided are compulsory sweeping of the littered roads by the culprit, plus a fine set by the local police court.

Marin City sheriff deputies declare they are stocking up on road brooms, and will rigidly enforce the section referring to sweeping. Guilty persons will also be hailed before the Sausalito court.

Parents are especially urged to watch their small children, and not permit them to take glass jars or bottles out of tht house.

New Nurse

Mrs. Ruth Long To Replace Mrs. Blumberg

Mrs. Ruth Long will replace Mrs. Marion Blumberg as Child Care Center Nurse, beginning May 1, announces Director Rose Peterson this week.

A resident now of Mill Valley, Mrs. Long comes originallly from San Pedro where she worked in the local hospitals. She has also had extensive experience in pediatrics.

Mrs. Long has two sons in the service and one daughter in Tamalpais High School.

Her new job, which was pioneered here by popular Nurse Blumberg, is offering a new and valuable service to working mothers.

Her duties involve daily checking of the health of every child enrolled in the Child Care Center. Mrs. Peterson said this week, mothers are becoming more and more dependent upon the service which was inaugurated here several months ago.

The director stated that many children come bearing notes from their parents asking the nurse's diagnosis of some minor ailment or requesting the nurse to escort the child to doctor or dentist for treatments.

All of these services are gladly undertaken, says Mrs. Peterson, because they are fulfilling the obligation of the Child Care Center — keeping war working mothers on their jobs.

CD Dance Tomorrow At Center

It's another CD-sponsored dance at the Community Building Saturday night, April 29, with popular Art Articary's band furnishing the music.

The dances are given here by the local Civilian Defense group to finance various home front activities carried on by the organization, which include a servicemen's party each month at the Sausalito Club, and support for all war charities and relief funds.

This group last month bore the entire expense of the Red Cross benefit dance, with all receipts going to the Red Cross.

Saturday's dance will follow the usual program, with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Cold drinks will be on sale. Admission will be 75 cents.

Candidates Open Forum On May 7

A candidates ' open forum meeting has been arranged here for May 7 at the Community House, with invitation extended to every man running for public office from United States senator to county dog-catcher.

Announcement of the coming meeting was made by Norman Campbell, chairman of the Marin City Council Public Affairs Committee.

Every candidate will be given time on the program to enunciate his platform to the voters of Marin City..

Every citizen is urged to attend to hear the men who will be on the ballot at the coming elections.

Dancing Class for Pre-Teeners This Saturday Afternoon

A new class in ballroom dancing for pre-teeners starts this Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in Bldg. 398, under instruction of Miss Alice James.

The seventh and eighth graders will be taught basic dance steps free of charge. Miss James is an experienced teacher who has had training supervising girls' camps and other recreational activities.

Mr. U. Hopkins has joined the Merchant Marine.

Need for More Blood Donors for Sorrowing Family

Blood donors to help a sorrowing Marin City family are still being recruited for a daytime trip to a San Francisco Hospital, by the USO Travelers' Aid Cottage.

One trip over in the evening contributed 9 pints of blood, aiding a family who recently lost its mother.

The daytime trip is being arranged for swing shift and graveyard shift contributors.

Those anxious to help out should contact Mrs. Marie Larson at the USO Cottage without delay.

All Cafeteria Equipment Is Now Installed

All the cafeteria equipment is now in and being hooked up, said Merritt Webster of the housing authority this week.

Opening is assured within two or three weeks, he added. No definite opening date has been set by the prospective operators, who also run the Dormitories cafeteria.

Story Of Johnny

Mrs. Larson Of USO Helps In Case Of Near Juvenile Wayward

JOHNNY

This is a story about Johnny, a young man who came from the farm to build ships. Seventeen-year-old Johnny started to work as a welder at Marinship.

And because his family is still back on a small ranch in South Dakota, Johnny went to live at the Dormitories across from Gate Three.

At first it was wonderful, he thought. He was on his own, he was earning more money than he'd ever seen in his life, and he was learning a trade—welding.

Then Johnny got sick with the flu. He was in bed at the Dormitories Infirmary for nearly a week, and when he was almost well his money was all gone, so he went right back to work.

Now things weren't quite the same, because he had a constant cold he couldn't shake. One morning, he just didn't wake up in time. He missed a day's work.

The next day, he got up and went back to work as usual. But Johnny had made a discovery. He had found out nothing terrible happened if he didn't show up on the job. He also found out he could get along by working just two days a week.

By this time, not working at the shipyard was a good idea to him. He hated working down in the double bottoms of the ship— inhaling welding fumes, and out of the good fresh air to which he had always been accustomed.

He began just hanging around off-shift where men congregated. He wasn't doing anything wrong, but the situation was getting ripe for "Juvenile delinquency".

Along about this time, he was getting behind on his room rent at the Dromitories. Some local cop picked him up out of the lounge room there one day, and hauled him over to the rent office.

It terrified the boy, because he hadn't yet done anything criminal.

By a good stroke of fortune some official over there decided to call Mrs. Marie Larson from the Marin City USO Travelers' Aid office, to see if she could cope with this troublesome young man who wouldn't go to work.

It didn't take Mrs. Larson long to find out what was wrong. She was the first sympathetic person the boy had sen since he left home, and he poured out his heart to her.

Johnny wanted to be out in the fresh air and sunshine again, he wanted to be part of a home, to have some one near him who cared a little about what he did.

The boy did not want to go back home in defeat, he wanted to stay on the coast and help win the war. So Mrs. Larson aiding the traveler, got in touch with the Farm Labor Bureau, which is badly in need of agricultural workers.

Last week he was offered, and took, a job with a fine Marin County dairy farm, where he will earn $120 a month plus rom and board.

It seems a simple solution to a fairly simple problem. But it is the solution for only one case, and there are hundreds of similar cases in the Marin City Domitories and other Bay Area centers where teen-age boys are living.

The USO Cottage staff helped the boy through the entire transition. Mrs. Marion MacQuade, Cottage secretary who has just given her 17-year-old son to the service, was dispatched to town with Johnny to help him find suitable clothing.

Attired in the new garb, the boy's morale picked up by leaps and bounds. Then his new service friends escorted him to the farm bureau, where he was directed to a new sort of life.

Tremendously concerned about the problems which these young, up-rooted boys are facing, Mrs. Marie Larson said this week, "We must find some way of regularly contacting these boys, of meeting them on a planned basis."

"It was only an accident that we found Johnny in time. I know many of the boys there are already in trouble, because they were not helped soon enough. Boys there are guilty of gambling, absenteeism, and are facing criminal charges of forgery and petty thefts," she said.

Mrs. Larson declared she is seeking the help of her USO Advisory committee, a group of local citizens, to devise a workable plan for contacting the boys before more serious trouble arises.

Thanks From Us To All Who Helped Get News Office

"The Marin Citizen" staff joins in offering thanks this week to the many organizations and individuals who cooperated so wholeheartedly in getting the local news office open in the old school building behind the fire house.

To the housing authority goes gratitude for loaning a desk and providing paint.

To the maintenance department, locksmith, painters, and carpenters, we express appreciation for their help which was individually way "beyond the call of duty."

To the Civilian Defense organization, thanks for releasing a telephone for our use.

"The Marin Citizen" Gets a Phone in Its New Office

The new "Marin Citizen" news office, located in the CD building next to the fire station, now has a telephone. The number is Sausalito 22.

Residents who find it difficult to come to the office, are urged to call their news items in by phone.

Office hours are 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1 to 4 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays.

The staff extends an invitation to all Marin City residents to come in and get acquainted.

Navigation Class Gains New Recruits For Instruction

Enrollment in Marin City's proposed navigation class was climbing this week. The class will be organized with a teacher from Marin Junior College as soon as 15 students have signed up.

Plans for the class call for instruction in how to handle small boats, and how to read instruments and charts.

Names in now are Mrs. Frank Simonick, Paul Rubottom, Mrs. Florence Fast, James San Jule, Mildred Shattuck, J. B. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs Art Walenta, Bob Gruenwald, C. Meyers and Mrs. Rosa McGuire.

Announcement of an instructor for the class will be made next week.

Recreation Hours On New Schedule At Gym Next Week

New recreation hours at the Community House gym will be inaugurated next week, starting Monday.

The auditorium will be open for play and sports from 7 to 9 p.m. every week night, under direction of leader John Batchan.

Style Show for Teen-Age Girls Is Being Planned

A style show and charm school for teen-age girls in Marin County is being planned now by Mrs. Lois Nelson, recreation director, and Marilyn King, San Francisco newspaper woman.

Larry Nichols Is Given A Farewell Party

The gang presented him with an identification bracelet for his going-away gift.

Larry is reporting for his physical in Los Angeles this week and expects soon to be in the services of Uncle Sam. "Preferably the Navy," says Larry.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Nichols and young son, Larry, Jr., who will make their home in the south for the duration.

The Batchans Have a Baby Girl April 15

John Batchan, new member of the Marin City Council, this week was beaming proudly and looking very weak.

Batchan, on April 15, went through the terrifying ordeal of becoming a father. Born on that day was Sandra Diane, weighing in at 6 pounds and 6 ounces, at Ross Hospital.

Mrs. Batchan is looking proud, too.

Approximately $90 was collected at the school children's program night, by the local Parent - Teachers Association which sponsored the affair.

Election for City Council On May 19

Nominations for Marin City Council positions open this Saturday, with the petitions available at the Rental Office, Project Services office in House 401, and at "The Marin Citizen" office. Nomination period will last until May 10. Election will be on May 19.

Council candidates, whose only requirement for running is to be 18 years of age or older, will be invited to speak at the Open Forum night for state, county and district candidates here on May 7.

There are seven positions up to be filled at the local election, May 19. The city is divided into four voting districts—A, B, C and D.

There is one position open in District A, which includes Apt. A1 to A34 and B1 to B6. Mrs. Milton Percy, incumbent, has announced her intention to run again for this office.

In District B, which includes Apts. A35 to 66 and B7 to B11, one position is open.

District C, which encompasses Houses 1 to 353, has two positions open. Michael Smith, former Council chairman, has announced his intention of running for one of these vacancies.

District B, which includes Houses 354 to 806, has three council seats to fill. John Batchan, newly appointed incumbent, has announced his candidacy for one of these offices.

There is no restriction on the number of candidates for any office in any district.

Any man or woman in Marin City may be nominated and put on the ballot by securing the signatures of 20 residents over 18 years of age on his nominating petition.

Candidates are requested to turn in a statement of their platform along with their nomination petition, for printing in "The Marin Citizen."

Project Services Staff Moves to New Building

The project services staff of Milen Dempster and Ethel Johnson has moved out of the rental office to new quarters on the hill behind the community building.

They are now located in the old kindergarten building, No. 401. The phone number is Sausalito 1180.

Seven New Families Welcomed to Our Community

Seven new families were welcomed to Marin City last week. From Texas comes Mr. and Mrs. Leon Glover, B6-632; and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Douglass, House 119.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Walker from Westwood, Calif., House 570; Mrs. Doris Hamil, House 529; Mr. and Mrs. E. Willingham from Oklahoma, House 254; Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Cockerham from Grey Eagle, Calif., House 537.

Muir Woods Painting Is On Display

A water color painting of Muir Woods has been loaned to Marin City's Community House for the duration by Mrs. Walter Finn, wife of the Muir Woods chief ranger.

The gift was made through Mrs. Earl James, president of Volunteers in Community Service.

William Richardson Volunteers to Help Model Class

William Richardson of A58-462 is the new volunteer leader of Marin City's two airplane modeling classes, announces the Recreation Department.

The children's group will meet every Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. in Bldg. 398.

Teener model airplane builders will meet with Richardson Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m., Bldg. 398.

Michael Fitzgerald Joins Port Force

Michael Fitzgerald last week joined the roll of Marin City men serving with the Port Security Force in San Francisco. He was inducted Thursday.

Bernard Hall is taking his training for this civilian service now.

Volunteers are needed for the Well-Baby Clinic held here every Wednesday. Applicants should see Mrs. Madeline Allen.

Youth Aid Promised by USO Group

A special meeting bringing together county experts concerned about young people in wartime, has been called by the Advisory Committee of the local USO Travelers' Aid office.

At their regular meeting last week, Director Marie Larson, reported her office had handled 76 new cases here, many of them young boys and single men at the Dormitories.

The consulting committee, composed of local citizens, aroused to action by the report voted to call in experts to work out a plan to help the young men.

At the special meeting next week, there will be Dr. David Schmidt, chief psychiatrist of San Quentin; Judge Edward I. Butler of the juvenile court; Ed Blum, probation officer, and recreational leaders concerned with the adjustment of young people.

Members of the Advisory Committee who are inaugurating the plan are William Fusselman, supervisor; Fred Bagshaw, chairman of the Board of Supervisors; Norman Dunn, Michael Smith, Mrs. Abbot, Mrs. Le Roy Eldridge, Philip Reeder, Mrs. Marion McQuade, Mrs. Florence Fast, and Mrs. Marie Larson, Victor Wells, and Milen Dempster.

The Albert Fowlers and the Clarence Husels were guests at Mr. and Mrs. Norman Campbell's home for a pot-luck supper lst Sunday evening. Such a fine time was had by all and so much good food was offered that Secretary Campbell was one-half hour late for the Marin City Council meeting.

Fire Starts From Paper Under House

Children plus matches plus paper stored under an unoccupied house here started a fire last week at 560.

An alarm turned in by Mrs. W. C. Waycott, resident of the other half of the duplex unit, called out the Marin City Fire Department which extinguished the fire before damage was done.

But, pointed out Fire Chief Rolf Bremer, the danger of leaving papers stacked under the houses should serve as a careful warning.

"The draft underneath the houses would permit the rapid spread of flames. With a stiff breeze, such a fire could easily spread to three or four units," the chief declared.

State Receiving Large Gas Tax

Continuing the upward trend nia gasoline tax collections for Fegruary showed a gain of $503255, or 15.4 per-cent, over the corresponding revenue of a year ago.

Richard E. Collins, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, told of this favorable comfarision this week upon completion of a tax levy of $3,772,030 based on distribution of 125,734,339 gallons of motor fuel during February.

CARRIER LISTING

In an effort to speed up war industry output through increasing the dispatch of freight by motor carriers, the Office of Defense Transportation has called upon Marin common carriers in the vicinity of a district Division of Motor Transport office to register empty or partially laden vehicles and excess freight awaiting transport with the ODT office.

Fake uniform salesmen are now operating in this area says Better Business Bureau.

'44 DEPOSITS MOUNT AT AMERICAN TRUST

Deposits in the American Trust Company as of April 13, were an all time high of $644,411,403.86 showing an increase of approximately 26 million during the first quarter of this year.

At the same time the bank's holdings in U. S. Government Bonds and Notes increased over thirty-three million.

VICS FOR VICTORY

Marin City's newest service organization adopted a name at their meeting last Tuesday. The women's group is now known as Volunteers in Community Service—VICS.

A gracious invitation to all of Marin City to become members of the Marin Music Chest was extended at the VICS meeting by Mrs. Melville Oppenheimer. Explaining the Chest, she phrased membership as "initiation to the county." Tickets are on sale by Mrs. W. C. Billingsley, Mrs. Earl James, Mrs. Arthur Walenta, and at the Rental Office.

VICS are sponsoring the membership drive in Marin City.

Publicizing of local volunteer drives and campaigns by handmade posters is offered to the community by VICS Artist Mrs. John E. Grubb of House 533. She may be contacted through the local USO Travelers' Aid office. Her first art efforts will be devoted to Red Cros Home Nursing illustrations.

School Superintendent Clifton Boyle's offer of four treadle sewing machines and a work room at the school for Red Cross sewing was gratefully accepted by the VICS. Mrs. P. A. Behrendt, production chairman, will announce the day in the near future.

Members are working with Mrs. Marie Larson of the USO Cottage here—helping in the office, visiting patients in hospitals, providing recreation materials for shut-ins.

VICS have volunteered to take on the job of "The Marin Citizen' circulation. Mrs. Dale Dinsmore is new circulation manager, asisted by Mrs. Everett Fitch and Mrs. W. C. Billingsley. All VICS will serve as neighborhod representatives and correspondents.

Michael Smith spoke on the importance of electing Marin City's candidate, Daniel Allen, to the School Board, at last Tuesday's meeting.

Next meeting of VICS is Tuesday, May 9, with every woman in Marin City invited to come.

Mrs. Milton Percy, VICS secretary, is ill at the infirmary with a bronchitis attack.

Brownies Team To Hold Whist Party at Center

The Brownies, women's softball team, are holding a whist party this Sunday, April 30, at the Community House to raise funds for athletic equipment.

The party starts at 6:30 p.m. in the council room. Everyone in Marin City is invited. Admission is 50 cents a couple.

The new group has 15 playing members, and is still recruiting for its softball team.

Mr. J. Hufstedher left Marin City this week to join the Army. His wife has gone to Biggers, Ark., to live.

Need Women To Put Together Surgical Dressings

Volunteers to serve with the Red Cross Surgical Dressings Work Room at Sausalito, are being recruited in Marin City, says Mrs. Victor Wollman, Sausalito Red Cross chairman.

"Women are urgently needed to help roll bandages and prepare surgical dressings for our wounded boys overseas," Mrs. Wollman said.

Transportation to the neighboring headquarters is provided twice weekly, Monday and Wednesday. The Motor Corps station wagon will leave the Community House on those days at 12.30 p.m. and return at 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Wollman extends an urgent invitation to all local women to respond to this appeal.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fitzgerald of House 76 plan to leave Marin City for residence into Alto on May 1. The move was necessary for the health of the two little Fitzgerald girls. The Fitzgeralds were the first family to move into a house here.

Two Groups Are Set for Dance Class

The children's dance class which meets regularly at the school every Saturday, will divide into a morning and an afternoon group to handle the heavy enrollment, announces the Mothers' Club which sponsors the instruction.

Morning class will meet at 9:30 a.m. and the new afternoon group will gather at 3:30 p.m.

Mothers who wish to enroll their children for the first time should come to either class, and talk to the club representative there.

Instruction is offered by a member of the San Francisco Ballet, who teaches in the ballet school.

Fees have been raised to 60 cents per class for each child, announces the Mothers' Club. The fee change makes it possible to charge only for each class attended.

New registrations should be made this Saturday, advises the Mothers' Club.

Marin City Cub Scouts are collecting empty coffee jars.

Hedda Hopper: Looking at HOLLYWOOD

DAME MAY WHITTY'S like a spring tonic. She should be "taken" regularly three times a day by all the women in the world. If by so doing they could capture even a part of her vitality and great courage it would be more than worth their while to make a textbook of her life.

Dame May Whitty

A definite threat to Hollywood's glamour girls ever since she arrived, the gay little actress, who has chalked up some 70-odd years of living, is the center of attraction wherever she goes. Her background deals not only with folk of the stage and screen but with brilliant political figures as well. Some day it will be told in a book written by her daughter, the well known stage director and Shakespearean authority, Margaret Webster, who is carrying on the family tradition as established by her actress mother and actor father, Ben Webster.

Dame May has brushed shoulders and opinions with newsworthy headliners, from princes to presidents, for the past decades. Her "political career," if you can call it that, dates back to a London party given by Mabel Terry, niece of the famous stage star Ellen Terry. Women's suffrage was just beginning to take form, and the conversation began drifting toward the suffragettes.

Goodness Gracious!

"How," went the general trend of talk, "could women lose their self-respect to such an extent? Where was their pride? Of what were they thinking?"

It was at this point that Dame May Whitty began to think, deeply and sanely. The more she thought the more she agreed with the movement. Suddenly she found herself defending the group.

"Why, I actually think you are a suffraget," Mabel Terry remarked with surprise.

"I believe I am," answered Dame May.

This marked a turning point in her life. From that moment she began coupling her make-believe life on the stage with the real business of fighting for a cause. She doesn't regret this decision, either. She feels woman's suffrage was prompted by courage and idealism and quotes H. W. Nevinson, who said, "It was the greatest spiritual movement I ever saw."

Miss Debutante's Career

Shirley Temple has had more offers since "Since You Went Away," but she's being kept right on her own home lot and will co-star with Ginger Rogers and Joe Cotten in "Double Furlough," in which she'll have her first love scenes. At least first on the screen. . . . George Murphy, Pat O'Brien and Carole Landis will do "Having Wonderful Crime," at RKO with Eddie Sutherland. Yes, they'll have a wonderful time, too. Eddie's that kind of a director. This is the third straight picture Murphy's done at RKO.

Shirley Temple

Green Light for Movies

Comdr. William Chamblias of the United States navy has written "Boomerang" — fiction based on facts. The facts will not be known until the story comes out in the S. E. P. after which it will be done as a picture by 20th, with Louis De Rochemont producing, and probably Dana Andrews in the star part. . . . Alexander Knox, who's just finished "Woodrow Wilson," leaves for his native land, Canada, and its army camps. Knox doesn't depend upon our writers; he's whipped up his own material. . . . Ethel Barrymore's play for the Theater Guild come fall is Franz Werfel's "Embezzled Heaven."

Still at It

Fanny Brice and Jimmy Durante do act together for "Ziegfeld Follies." Maybe to teach youngsters how it's done, or bring back memories to oldsters who've been watching them do it for years. . . . Columbia's working on "Glamour for Sale," with Hugh Herbert in charge of beauty. It's to be a musical. Already Ina Ray Hutton and her band have been signed for it. It isn't star glamour in the studio, but concerns a lady on the street.

As She Wrote It

Preston Sturges telling about time his mother wrote a daily beauty column for a London paper. She got $25 weekly. It supported three of them. Preston didn't think her grammar was good enough, and suggested rewriting it, but her husband screamed, "Hey! We've gotta eat, haven't we? If they like it, why shouldn't we?" . . . Which reminds me, that rugged individualist Lloyd Lewis once wrote about beauty, too. But Lillian Russell's name was signed to it.

The Week's Best Shows

By ANNIE OAKLEY

There is still time to catch "North Star" this wek. It continues until Saturday night at the Gate. Sometimes we tell you about pictures that we consider worth seeing, either as simple stories, good acting, high comedy, or for their dramatic action but here is one that has everything. You'll be doing yourself an injustice if you miss this one.

Speaking of comedy you might ease the tension of seeing "North Star" by following it with "Cover Girl." It opens Sunday at the Marin and plays through Tuesday. In it are Rita Hayworth, Gene Kelley, Phil Silvers and (the bill says) "America's foremost cover girls." I say that foremost or hindmost, cover girls are where you find them and this is a collection worth seeing.

There's plenty of opportunity for you swing-shifters to catch a lot of good shows, too. The "Marin" has a Thursday matinee that starts at 1 p.m., and is out in plenty of time for you to catch your shift.

There is a matinee bargain deal this week that promises to make history with the younger patrons at least. The "Gate" is offering a Saturday matinee at 2 p.m. with five big bargain features. Come one, come all, for a big time with five—count 'em—five features.

Busy and Happy

At Med. Center With Dr. Dick and Nurse Shick

(Editorial Note: This week we present the first of a series written about the Marin City Medical Center staff and the people who use the Medical Center. The incidents related are true, but the names are fictitious.)

Saturday afternoon, when the Medical Center is closed except for emergencies, started off dedeceptively quiet. Only a few patients stopped by with minor ailments, and received treatment or medication.

The phone rang many times, sometimes to get information and again to report that little Sue is much better or that Jimmie has a fever.

"How long has little Jimmie been sick; what are his complaints; has he been seen by a doctor recently " asks Nurse Shick, so she can exercise good judgment in giving instructions and determining the urgency of a home visit.

When Nurse Shick makes a home call she observes the patient carefully and reports her findings to Dr. Dick, who in many instances sees the patient at once or at a time that seems indicated by the patients' condition.

Last weekend Dr. Dick and Nurse Shick were dashing about all hours of the day and night.

At 4 o'clock Nurse Shick started home calls by seeing little Virgie who is a blond darling of three years, with a sore throat and temperature.

Her parents were distressed because of her fever and because she wouldn't eat. Nurse Shick smiled and talked to Virgie, took the child's temperature and then looked at her throat — in fact they became good friends and Virgie shyly held Nurse Shick's hand.

Nurse Shick gave instructions to the parents, reassured them, told them to report her condition in a few hours if she was not definitely improved after treatment, and carefully made notes of her findings which she then reported to Dr. Dick who had just returned from seeing Mrs. Highstreet who had a severe earache.

Mrs. Highstreet was a character. She was a worn, frail woman who, out of sheer desperation, acquired from caring for her nine children, had to develop something now and then to be assured some rest and attention.

She became very bird-like and chirped when Dr. Dick assured her she must remain in bed a few days and take sulfathiazole to clear up the ear infection.

During the early afternoon and evening, Dr. Dick and Nurse Shick saw 13 patients in their homes and were just about to feel that a day's work was well done and behind them when they had to dash to the Medical Center because Jo Ann had fallen and cut her head on a rock. After much soothing and a suturing she was sent home in the grateful arms of her daddy.

Nurse Shick was sound asleep at 11:45 p.m. when the phone rang. It was Mrs, Highhill asking what she should do for little Chartreuse and Gretchen who both had been whooping and coughing for two or three weeks. She'd never taken them in to the doctor because they seemed "pretty good" and she was busy, but tonight they both were coughing and what should she do, Nurse Shick gave her instructions for inhalation and neck compresses, and told her to bring them to Dr. Dick on Monday.

At 2 a.m. Nurse Shick called Dr. Dick to see Mrs. Cupqser who had some abdominal pains. Dr. Dick ordered her to the infirmary because her condition required careful observation and nursing care which her young daughter could not give.

Dr. Dick had just counted the last sheep and was dozing off at 4 a.m. when the shrill voice of the telephone rang. It was Nurse Shick. Would Dr. Dick come to . . .

Federal Agency Repairs Marin's Vital Highways

Reports by the Federal Works Administration upon two roads in Marin showed Monday at the Board of Supervisors meeting that close to $100,000 is being spent in this county for the repair and resurfacing of county highways now in use by various brances of the federal government.

First FWA statement turned the Tiburon-California City road back to the county for upkeep. The road, widened and completely resurfaced by FWA at a cost of approximately $75,000, will now be "white lined." The cutting of the curves and other work on the bay shore drive makes it a proper scenic thoroughfare, while practical for Net Depot activity now.

SAUSALITO ROAD

At the same time the FWA has agreed to go ahead with resurfacing of the highway running in front of Marinship. This strip partially within the jurrisdiction of the county, with the remaining portion within the city limits of Sausalito, is now being remade at a cost of $22,358.80 to FWA.

TAX CANCELLATION

At the advice of Deputy District Attorney Thomas Nelson and District Attorney Harold Haley the Supervisors voted to cancel $235 in back taxes left unpaid by U. S. government acquisition of the old Sausalito Land and Ferry Co. According to legal advice the county would have to sue the long defunct ferry company for the amount, which was still unpaid despite a government settlement, this, according to the D.A.'s office would cost more than the $235 owed.

Recommendations of the Marin Planning Commission, presented by Chairman Charles Lund, were approved by the board, concerning the applications of August Rambauy, Marina Heights, and William E. Bassett, Marin City Riding Academy.

Further business before the Board, which again had one of its short meets, included setting aside of $1,000 for financing of the 5th War Loan which will begin June 15, and will be directed by Supervisor Wm. D. Fusselman; granting to Supervisor R. A. Thompson the right to purchase a truck for District No. 5, cost not to exceed $1,100; and over all cancellation of Veteran's Bureau taxes in Sanitary Districts.

Cadet Openings For Merchantmen

For the first time in recent months, qualified young men in all Western states may apply for appointment as Deck or Engineer Cadet-Midshipmen in the U. S. Merchant Marine Cadet Corps. Application received now will be processed immediately according to the Cadet District Supervisor's Office, 262 California St., San Francisco.

Those elegible for this training are between the ages of 17½ and 23 years. High school graduates with credits in mathematics, science and engineering are desired. Applicants under 17½ years may apply with the understanding that they will not be placed on the active list until they have reached that age.

to inform them of the displeasure of the Marin City community at the effort being made to disrupt the unity and tolerance for which Marin City has become nationally known. Members of the committee which will call on Sausalito merchants are Daniel Allen, council chairman; Michael Smith, former council chairman; and Norman Campbell, chairman of the council's editorial committee.

Another step taken by the city council to protect the unity of the community was to unanimously reaffirm a previous action of the council in denying the Marin City Women's Club a non-voting seat on the city council. Reffirmation of the action was taken because of a recent amendment to the women's club constitution placing restrictions on its membership. Only organizations allowed non-voting membership on the city council are those which accept without discrimination into membership all residents who wish to join.

Speaking for the women's club and tacitly admitting that their organization did place restrictions on its membership were Mrs. J. R. Kahrt and Mrs. Ben Bloomquist. The matter was discussed with the council for more than an hour before the final unanimous decision of the council was made.

Other actions of the council were:

1. John Batchan, recreation leader, was appointed to serve out Dan Lounsbury's unexpired council term. Al Barden was appointed to fill the other vacant seat in District D.

2. Announcement of the council's coming election May 19, was made by the election committee. Nominating petitions for the seven vacancies will be available this Saturday.

Nominating period will be open until May 10.

Mrs. Joyce Shaw and her cousin, Lois, are leaving Marin City soon for a trip to Minnesota to visit relatives. It will be the first time the northern relatives have seen the new Shaw baby. Harold Shaw, Army husband of Joyce, is now in New Guinea.

Children's Diphtheria Is Checked

Two Marin City children harboring a virulent strain of diphtheria are now in the Dormitories Infirmary. Until they each have two negative cultures, they cannot return to community life.

Because each has been immunized against this disease, they are scarcely sick at all, the County Health Department explained this week.

In contrast, last year there was one death from diphtheria in a child who had not received immunization shots.

Last week between 40 and 50 local school children who had come in contact with one of the sick children, were given diphtheria infection checks by the Health Department. None had a positive culture.

This week 50 more school children were cultured (checked) as result of finding the second sick child a carrier of the disease. The second child was discovered on routine culturing of the family contacts of the first, it was explained by health officials.

Quarantine was established on two families until those harboring diphtheria were discovered.

No other cases have developed, or been reported, and the present outbreak is believed to be under control from the control measures taken, the County Health Officer stated today.

Midget Team Wins Game, 4 to 0 Score

Marin City Midgets beat the Mill Valley Grammar School team, 4 to 0, in a fast game on the neighboring diamond last Saturday afternoon.

The local team scored five hits and two runs; Mill Valley lagged with two hits, two runs. There were two walks on both sides.

Pitching for the local nine was Lynn Roath. Catcher was Walter Daugherty.

Subsitutes were Arnold Juetten and Larry Daugherty.

The Midgets, local seventh, eighth and ninth graders, were originally organized by Vernon Koch. Koch, who is planning to leave for the Army soon, has turned the coaching chore over to Tamalpais Hi student Eugene Chaun.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris of House 37 recently received word that their son, Ensign Winfield Harris of the Navy Air Corps, is expected home any day.

Ensign Harris has been overseas since Pearl Harbor, flying in the South Pacific.

"SHARK'S FINS AND MILLET"
by Ilona Ralf Sues
331 pp.
Publ. Little, Brown and Co.
$3.00
Sold: Paul Elder's Book Store,
239 Post Street

REVIEWED BY EDITH HOFMANN

Ilona Ralf Sues, a Polish girl with a brilliant European background was working at Geneva for the Anti Opium Information Bureau. During 1935 she got rather fed up with the hypocracy and intentional inertia of the League towards the agressions of Japan and Italy. On top of that she despaired of the effectiveness of the League's Anti Opium Legislation, as Japan went happily along poisoning China with that drug.

So, Ralf Sues packed her three C's, Cat, Camera and Continental Typewriter and went to China. The book that came out of the voyage she called: "Shark's Fins and Millet"—Why that puzzling name? "Shark's Fins are the crowning delicacies of official feasts (of the rich), Millet is the rice of the poor . . . "

Miss Sues visits the famous cities Canton, Shanghai, Nanking and the wide anonymous countryside. She meets opium dealers, Chinese Guerillas, pro Japanese officials and American bishops. She is introduced to Madame Chiang Kia-chek and for a while works actively on one of her publicity projects. She eats at the house of Madame Sun Yat-Sen and acquires the lasting friendship of "Donald" the unique American, who is at the same time intimate adviser and pal of the Chiangs.

Miss Sues meets the eight Route Army and their legendary leader Mao Tse, the Tito of the Chinese people.

Her book, inspiring, courageous and challenging traditional viewpoints is one of the most alive, most human and most promising reports to come out of the "mysterious Orient."

"THE LONELY ONES"

This is a nice gift for Mom on Mother's Day. Something completely unorthodox, a series of drawings and a line under them to be read aloud! Steig who has been drawing picturres principally for the "New Yorker" here shows us a series of people, who are different than the "usual boy and girl"; they are lonely not necessarily, because they are unhappy, some of them seem very pleased with themselves, no they all are more or less apart from the rest of the world.

Sure enough, the whole family will soon find all their best friends and "pet hates" in the Lonely Ones, and it will be quite natural to hear Daddy say, "see, mama, here that one screams "THESE AILMENTS ARE Purely Psychic" just like that hysterical women, Miss Pritcher across the street" . . ? "Here is one that could be Papa," . . Junior may slyly insert . . . Me, this ridiculous little man with his three legs in a circle," "Well, Yes, he says, "I MIND MY OWN BUSINESS," that's what you always say, Daddy" . . .

You see, this is a stimulating book. Everybody can take courage from the sternly scarfed woman, who looks like a sphynx in her heyday and proclaims I DO NOT GIVE UP HOPE" . . . On the other hand we shall all love the stern little would be dictator with antlers on his forehead, a sword on his belt and a two by four with spikes in it saying: I DO NOT BELIEVE IN MISLEADING PEOPLE. In the other free hand of the peaceful soul dangles a Jo Jo . . . The little man who says I WANT YOUR LOVE BUT DON'T DESERVE IT, is a sorry sight and smacks of tragedy in teenage years. Best of all is the little mad soul who sits inside a box, knees drawn up, murmuring between clenched teeth PEOPLE ARE NO DARN GOOD. And isn't he right? . .. .

That's why people buy the book, "THE LONELY ONES," because we are all at times like them, it's fun to see ourselves in that mirror of Steig. We look slightly distorted aud yet, oh so cute!!!

MUMPS AND MEASLES HIGH IN HEALTH LIST

Sixty-two cases of measles were reported during the past week to the Marin County Health Department according to the recent prevalent disease listing. In addition to measles twenty-five cases of mumps were tabulated. The largest number of these cases was from the southern Marin area. Other diseases listed included chickenpox, 7; diphtheria, 1; German measles, 2; gonorrhoea, 3; influenza, 1; rheumatic fever, 1.

Speaking of coincidences Joe T. Serna, Marinship employee, who has been working on the S.S. Mission San Rafael, was born in San Rafael, New Mexico, and is now living in San Rafael, Marin County.

LEA WIELDS THE WHITE WASH-BRUSH

Let's turn to the record to learn the truth. Less than 60 days ago, Eugene L. Garvey, distinguished counsel for the committee investigating the Federal Communications Commission under Mr. Lea's chairmanship, tendered his resignation with the remarks that the probe had degenerated into a "white-washing affair" to which he was "unwilling to contribute his support." He further remarked that "to such a patent fraud on the Congress and the public, I cannot and will not lend my aid."*

HOSTILITY CLEAR

In a letter to Mr. Lea he said:

"From the beginning of your chairmanship, your hostility to the investigation has been clear to me.

"You have repeatedly ignored the mandate of the House, stymied the staff in its work, and converted the investigation to a sheer white-washing affair, wholly responsible to political pressure and dominated entirely by political expediency."

Mr. Garvey concluded: "To continue as counsel to the committee in these circumstances, I would serve no useful purpose, would merely produce waste and futility, and would end in shame and dishonor to the Congress."

Also resigning with Mr. Garvey were prominent associates, Fred R. Walker, Ambrose V. McCall, and Milton I. Hauser.

This, then, is the opinion of men who have worked with Mr. Lea in Congress. This, too, will be the opinion of many of our interested citizens of the First District.

CHANGE NEEDED

This kind of politics awakens our distrust. Bureaucratic regimentation with its despotic controls adds to our fears for the future. We need a change. Only 10 Republican Congressmen replacing Democrats will give us this change in Congress. Make this District one of the ten. Elect George C. Faulkner to Congress . . . a man whose chief interest is the wish of the voters. We want a voice in our own government and George C. Faulkner will give it to us.

Riding Academy To Be Ready Here on May 1

Marin City's newest community addition, the riding academy, is set to open May 1, announces its proprietors Lloyd O'Howell and Lloyd Miller.

Located just west of the city at the end of Pacheco Circle, the academy will offer horses for rent, Shetland ponies for the children, picnic grounds, barn dances to a cowboy orchestra or nickelodeon.

So far the men have 10 horses and hope to build the stock up to 25. There are three ponies.

Plans for a pony ring, for Marin City children, are underway at the playground near the highway viaduct.

According to present announcement, the academy will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Regular barn dances, moonlight riding trips and evening hayrides are all being considered for the future enjoyment of Marin City families.

Both of the enterprisers are from South Dakota where they were ranching. O'Howell, who lives at House 346, is a flanger at the shipyard.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Howell and their daughter, Juanita, 10, have often been seen riding horseback along Marin City streets.

Marin City is particularly appropriate for an academy because the surrounding hills offer such excellent riding trails and views, says O'Howell.

X-ray technician, will graduate from Fitzsimons Hospital in Denver on May 10, announces his mother, Mrs. O. B. White. After his graduation, he is expected home on furlough, after which he will report to the Army Medical Corps for overseas duty.

IN AND AROUND 'TAM'

By DAVE SHIPPEY

Preparations are now underway for the Tamalpais NEWS Staff's Barn Dance to be given May 12 in the Assembly Hall. Associated with the barn dance is the annual Whiskerino Contest—beard-growing competition among the various stubbles of Tam's male students.

Tam's swimming team again defeated Menlo last Friday in the Menlo pool, 31-27 in their last meet of the season. The previous week the Indians defeated the safe Menlo team 38-23.

* * * *

Twenty-five dollars will be given to three lucky students holding winning tickets and attending Friday's Student Body meeting in Tam's Mead Theatre. Only those students buying at least 25c worth of War Stamps will be entitled to attend the assembly which will include music by the Army's Presidio Band and unveiling of the Service Flag.

In their second league loss in three starts, the Tam baseball club lost to Vallejo last Friday on the Tam diamond 1-0. Squelching all hopes for the pennant this season. McWilliams of Vallejo pitched a no-hit no-run game against the Indians and Tam's Foote allowed but three hits.

Truancy Is Cause Of Another Fine

Another of Marin City's parents was hailed into court last week by School Superintendent Clifton Boyle for permitting a child to be truant from the local grammar school.

Judge Paul Helmore of the Sausalito Police Court, fined Mrs. William Kennedy of House 655, $10 for permitting her 13-year-old son 52 days absence without excuse in a three and one-half months period.

The judge also warned the parents another offence would bring a stiffer fine.

This is the third case brought by the school superintendnt against parents who allow their children illegal absence from class.

The California state law demands compulsory attendance of all children between the ages of 8 and 16. The only legal excuse for absence is illness of the child.

STATEMENT FROM A GERMAN PRISONER OF WAR

WHEN ASKED which side he thought would win the War, a German officer captured at Salerno made the following statement:

"This is one war America will not win, because America is too weak at home. Your people are too far away—their hearts are not in it. They will tire—they do not have the unshakeable determination to conquer that fills every man and woman of the German Reich!"

When you're asked to buy more War Bonds and to keep on buying more War Bonds—remember what that German officer said.

Let's all KEEP BACKING THE ATTACK!

Rational Rationing

Community Service Member
Local OPA Board.

By H. A. B. SNEVE

Unrationed foods which will be relatively abundant in most sections of the country during April are white potatoes, wheat flour and bread, shell eggs, macaroni, fresh oranges and grape fruit, oatmeal, soyal flour, citrus marmalade, canned green and wax beans, rye breakfast foods, frozen vegetables (including frozen baked beans) peanut butter and dry mix and dehydrated soups.

The shopper will also find moderately large supplies of raisins and dried prunes. They are now point free.

The reduced point values on canned tomatoes, canned corn and peas makes these items good buys for homemakers. Canned peas have been reduced from 8 to 2 points for a No. 2 can.

Asparagus will be more plentiful from now until the end of April.

Canned fish: Civilians will get about half the expected supply of canned fish for the year beginning July 1: this means that about as much canned fish as during 1942 and about 25 per cent more than last year will be available.

Sugar for Canning: Homemakers will have about the same amount of sugar for home canning as they did last year. The first dividend of 5 younds of canning sugar may be obtained by using Sugar Stamp No. 40 in War Ration Book 4. In addition a maximum of 20 pounds more per person may be applied for at homemaker's local ration boat at any time afted March 23. The whole home canning sugar transaction may be handled by mail this year. First the consumer sends for OPA form R323 which is the application for extra sugar. On this she writes her name and the names of the persons at the same address for whom she is requesting sugar and the number of pounds of sugar needed. To the form she attaches a spare stamp No. 37 from War Ration Book No. 4 for every person whose name is on the application. This is for purposes of identification. If the board approves the application, it will mail coupons or certificates for the sugar to the homemaker. Later she may apply for more if necessary.

Meat: Slightly less meat has been allocated to civilians for the April through June quarter than the total allocation for the January-March period. However, approximately the same proportion of beef, pork, veal and lamb will be available as during the present quarter. The smaller allocation reflects the seasonal decline in livestock marketing during the spring months.

In order to share precious food supplies, U. S. civilians must plan home front meals around the foods that are plentiful. That is the purpose of the No-Point-Low-Point Campaign across the nation. During the Spring there is a wide choice of fresh fruits and vegetables to add to the list of foods that have been abundant during the winter months.

Dehydrated Vegetables Allocated: Of the slightly more than 246 million pounds of dehydrated vegetables expected to be available for allocation from July 1, 1944 to June 30, 1945, more than 95% will be used by non-civilian claimants. The 5% allocated to U. S. civilians will be used almost wholly in soups.

U. S. military and war services will get about 70% of the supply, 23% goes to Great Britain and Russia, the liberated areas reserve and other exports will get about 1% each. About 40% more dehydrated vegetables will be available this year. Production was expandded to meet war needs and because export of these commodities conserves shipping space.

Store Eggs at Home: Eggs continue to be the abundant protein food of the month. The WFA has asked that homemakers buy all the eggs possible during this high production season, and to store some at home. Besides providing the poultrymen with markets now, the homemaker will be assuring her family a supply of eggs when this food is not so plentiful. Putting down eggs in waterglass is the old reliable method of preservation used for generations both on farms and in cities. Waterglass seals the pores of the eggs, and keeps spoilage organisms out. As a matter of fact, it seals so thoroughly that it really makes "glass eggs." When the homemaker boils eggs that have been in waterglass, she should remember to prick the shells with a pin or they will crack and leak in the hot water.

Foods in the News: Along with eggs, feature such vegetables as asparagus, potatoes, carrots, cabbage and lettuce, as no-point abundant foods during April.

CONSUMER TIME: This national broadcast which for more than ten years has been giving consumers the latest news on food, is starting a tour. On April 15 the broradcast will come from Chicago and will be on "Variety Meats." A big packing company has cooperated to furnish the latest information on these meats and how to use them. A booklet, "Meat for Thrifty Meals" will be the give-away to Consumer Time listeners.

For information regarding rationing problems, telephone Sausalito 675 and ask for Mr. Sneve or Miss Roberts.

Care Center Kids Vie for Chance To Help Teacher

One of the most popular activities at the local Child Care Center these days is helping Mrs. Rose Peterson with the daily shopping expedition.

Nearly every morning, Mrs. Pterson and her gang of four helpers can be seen at the market. The children play outside until shopping is completed, then each boy or girl is given one bundle of groceries to carry to the center kitchen for their big mid-day meal.

Mrs. Peterson reports competition has become so keen for the grocery-toting privilege, she has been forced to make a rotating list which grants priority to the day's top four names.

The school-age section of Marin City's Child Care Center can enroll seven more children this week, announces Director Rose Peterson.

The vacancies were created by families who have moved away from the city.

For 50 cents per day, enrolled children get before and after school care which includes a balanced, hot mid-day meal, morning and afternoon snacks, services of a registered nurse, supervised rest and recreation.

The extended day service is financed by parents' fees and money from the Federal government, administered by the local school district.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wedgeworth have returned to their home town of Wedgeworth, Alabama.

VICS Aid Marin Music Chest Drive

Whole-hearted endorsement of the Marin Music Chest by the newly organized Volunteers in Community Service was given last Tuesday evening when this enterprising group met at the Community building.

Standing for everything that is educational and cultural in the community and realizing the cultural aspects of the Marin Music Chest and the advantages through its membership of hearing the finest artists of concert and operatic stage for a nominal admission price, Mrs. Earl James and members of her group, at the suggestion of Mrs. W. C. Billingsley, Marin City representative for the Music Chest, unanimously accepted the proposed endorsement.

Mrs. Melville Oppenheimer spoke, explaining the purpose of the chest and stressing the point that memberships are in two classifications, for every five dollars subscribed two tickets are included for every concert during the current season, mailed in advance, and anything less than five dollars, "any amount desired," said Mrs. Oppenheimer, entitles the member to purchase one 25c ticket to every concert during the current season upon presentation of membership card at the box office of Forest Meadows the afternoons of concerts given.

It was also explained that the Marin Music Chest is a nonprofit organization, with no one receiving any remuneration but the artists. Number of concerts given a season and type of artist presented is contingent upon the financial result of the membership drive.

The twelfth annual drive for funds now in progress closes May 1. Memberships may be obtained through Mrs. W. C. Billingsley, Mrs. A. W. Walenta, Mrs. Earl James or at the Community Building, and may also be had by contacting county headquarters for the Chest locatd at 1143 Fourth Street, San Rafael. County headquarters will remain open all of next week to accommodate those unable to obtain memberships during the two weeks of the drive.

Mrs. Earl Linman is visiting her husband in Montgomery, Alabama where he is taking his basic Army training. She will remain with him until he has completed his training when she will return to Marin City and her job at the local post office.

MARIN CITIZEN

P. O. Box 556, Marin City, California
Official organ of the Marin City Council

"To do everthing in our power to help win the war. To promote the welfare and community spirit of Marin City."

JAMES SAN JULE, Editor.
DOROTHY SMITH, City Editor.
GALE TAFFINDER, Advertising Manager.

"The Marin Citizen" is delivered each week to the homes of more than 6000 war workers and their families. It is the only newspaper published in the second largest city of Marin County.

Subscription Rate: $2:50 a year. Advertising rates on application.

Our Unity Must Be Maintained

For the past ten months "The Marin Citizen" has faithfully served the people of Marin City. Started by the Marin City Council to provide a medium of expression for the residents of this war workers community, the paper has been delivered each week to the homes of all who live here.

"The Marin Citizen" has been more than just another newspaper. It has been a community project. When there was a job to be done which would benefit everyone, the "Citizen" has been there to help. The jobs most people will remember are those which cleared up a nasty situation in the police department and which drove from the community a market operator who was violating OPA price ceilings. There have been scores of lesser jobs done—all of them in some way advancing the best interests off ALL of the ptople and all of them in some way furthering our nation's war effort.

"The Marin Citizen" has gained nationwide fame for the job it has done. Our birthday edition last year carried greetings from many of the nation's great, including Admiral Land, chairman of the United States Maritime Commission; Wendell Willkie; United States Senator Sheridan Downey; Paul Robeson, great Negro singer; William Green, president of the AFL; Philip Murray, president of the CIO, and many other local, state and national leaders. Their messages were a tribute to our community as the leading war worker's city in the nation.

Most of the work done on "The Marin Citizen" is volunteer work. The paper since its start has been a non-profit enterprise, operated by the city council elected by Marin City residents. The salaries paid to those working full time on the paper are low. The watchword of the paper is "service to all" rather than "profit to individuals". It is truly a peoples' newspaper.

Because these things are so, and because "The Marin Citizen" means so much to the future welfare of the people of Marin City we know that the present attack on the paper by outside interests will be met by a united citizenry, conscious of the tremendous job they are doing to speed the war effort and determined not to be misled by those who would destroy their unity.

Mike's Column

By MICHAEL B. SMITH

For the last year and a half the folks in our town have been making a real effort to live fairly normal lives under conditions that at times have been abnormal in the extreme.

Knowing that we have been looked upon as uninvited guests by a minority group of the natives of Marin county, we have attempted to show by example that our one desire is to get along in as friendly a manner as possible with everyone in the county. This we have done because all of us are plain, ordinary American citizens who want to live ordinary American lives and also because we know the necessity for unity in time of war.

We here have always gone more than half way in tackling any of the war-time tasks this county has undertaken.

Compared with other communities of similar size, this town of ours has led the field in everything.

In the Red Cros drive we were one of the first cities in the county to meet our quota. The campaign didn't stop until we had over-subscribed to the extent of one-third. Every month our people donate as much blood as the Red Cross facilities can handle.

In Victory gardens, buying War Bonds and all the rest of the war causes we have always done more than has been asked of us.

Last summer, even, the kids baseball team here won the county championship.

All of this because we are earnest in our support of the war effort and because we want to fit into the scheme of things in a county, some of whose people have never been too gracious to what they too often refer to as "Moron" City.

In all the best that Marin City has done, "The Marin Citizen," official newspaper of the Marin City Council for the past ten months, has played an indispensable part. I think most of the folks here know that.

I know "The Marin Citizen" has the loyalty of its readers, just as the Marin City Council has the loyalty of all of the Marin City residents. Before long the rest of the county will know this, too.

Last week a Marin county publisher began the circulation of a new weekly publication in Marin City. It was started by him after he had made it imposible to have "The Marin Citizen" printed at his shop any longer.

A simple comparison of the two papers and what they stand for will serve to show why this outside paper will not succeed.

"The Marin Citizen" is strictly a non-profit enterprise. It is the official paper of the City Council which is elected by all of the people here. It goes to the home of every resident. Its editorial policy is to do the best it can for our own people.

This outside paper is privately owned. Its policy is to make money for the guy who owns it. That's all.

I have been informed that the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce is behind this outside paper. I hope this is not the case.

This "'good neighbor" policy of ours is what military experts would call a "fluid" proposition. It is supposed to work both ways. In the past we have been most humble in our desire to be friendly.

That is why a committee from the Marin City Council is going to call on various Sausalito merchants to explain to them in a friendly fashion the feeling of the entire council toward this outside paper. That is why there is a large body of resentment throughout our entire community at this attack on our own paper which has meant so much to us.

From here on out our friendliness will be tempered with a determination that we'll have no truck with anybody who seeks to undermine "The Marin Citizen" and our Marin City Council. They've both made our living here in a temporary wartime city easier to bear. Anyone who attacks them will face the wrath of an aroused community.

CORRECTION

As the reader has probably already guessed, the figure of $56,000,000 which appeared in Mike's column last week is a typographical error. The correct sum for the Federal appropriation to run Marin City's grammar school is $56,000.

RYAN FOR ASSEMBLY

Surprise candidate of the entire campaign to date is Lester Ryan, the Tiburon carpenter who is running for the state assembly post from this district.

Ryan, who has lived and worked in Marin county for many years, entered the contest against incumbent Richard McCollister at a late date. Filing only as a Democrat, he was not expected give McCollister much opposition.

The big surprise has been that Ryan has gained a lot of strength and now is pressing McCollister hard for the Democratic nomination.

Ryan has the endorsements of the Democratic County Central Committees of Marin and Sonoma counties — the two counties which make up the Seventh Assembly District. He has also been endorsed by the Marin County Central Labor Council and the Marin County Building and Construction Trades Council. He will probably get the endorsements of both Sonoma central labor bodies in the near future.

In his swings through Sonoma, Ryan has gained unexpected support from farm groups, including some Grange units. He also has the backing of old age pension units in the district.

All of this backing has developed within the last 30 days and is a tribute to the appeal that Ryan has as an honest peoples' candidate.

If Ryan wins the Democratic nomination from McCollister, who is a registered Republican although he also filed on the Democratic ticket, he will go into the final election in November with a fine chance of winning the assembly seat from this district.

BAGSHAW COMMITTEE

The Bagshaw for Supervisor Commitee in Marin City grew even larger this week as more names were added to those urging residents here to return Fred Bagshaw to the post he now holds on the county board of supervisors.

New names added to the committe were Ed Anderson and Norman Campbell, both members of the Marin City Council.

Those urging Bagshaw's reelection point to his record of support for the things which have benefitted all Marin City residents during the past two years. The election is on May 16.
